

Companies and governments commit to share a fraction of future savings with BASIC-Z for having incubated targeted social innovations which created these savings

savings to be shared